

Homeroom Homework for November 8-12

This week students are focusing on exclamation marks. Exclamation marks show excitement or surprise. Students need to correct the advertisement by adding in periods, question marks, or exclamation points as needed. Next students will read a sentence and analyze if the correct end mark is used. If it is students will place a checkmark on the line. If the end mark is used incorrectly students will need to identify and write the correct end mark on the line.
